

The Daily Gazetteer.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1745.

Milan, July 31.

Report has lately prevailed, as if we should speedily see a new Governor-General here from Vienna; and some go so far, as to mention Prince Wenceslaus of Lichtenstein. It is not easy to guess what Effects the Presence of this new Officer must have; but we may with Certainty profess, it more than Time this Country had a Governor sent to reside in it. While the Field-Marshal Count Traun here, every Thing wore the Face of Order; and he was never severe, yet his Oeconomy was so great, and his own Application so great, that all the Affairs of Government moved harmoniously, and without Trouble. Since that Time, Things have altered much; and the Confusion is now so great, that but the coming of some Person of great Ability and a good Interest at Vienna, can set them to rights. But whatever Errors there might be in our Opinion, yet there was not with it the smallest Tincture of Disaffection, as there always has been in Parma; by thro' the Interest of the Queen of Spain, who would not endure to see her Native Country in the Hands of the Austrians; and partly thro' the Pains taken, and expence by Count de Gages, to keep up always a Party in that Duchy.

London, July 28. His Britannick Majesty's Ship which was with the French Man of War called the St. Esprit, 60 Guns, near the Straights Mouth, was the Jersey, 60 Guns, Capt. Hardy, and the Engagement held in Half an Hour past Six in the Evening, till Nine, when the French Man of War bore away, on her Return to Cadiz, to refit. We hear that the St. Esprit lost her Foremast and Bow-sprit, and 20 Men in the Action. There were five Merchant Ships under Convoy the St. Esprit, who all put back to Cadiz; two of which having sailed from thence a second Time, were seized by the Dartmouth; till the Crews, finding no Means to escape, ran their Vessels ashore near the Heights, and set Fire to them. The Dartmouth has since forced ashore four Spanish Polacres near Cadiz.

Vienna, August 4. On the 1st of this Month the Emperor came to this City, and held a grand Council in the Castle, in which Count Philip Kinski took the Oaths in Majesty's Presence, in Quality of President of the Election of the Bank; and upon the breaking up of that Council, he was installed into that Office. On the 2nd there was another grand Council at the Apartment of Count Zinzendorf, Grand Master of the Queen's Household, to consider of the Measures necessary to be taken on the approaching Journey of her Majesty into the Empire. It was therein agreed, that her Train should be as small as possible, but, at the same time, significant to the utmost. Wurtzbourg is to be the Place of her Residence, till the Election is over; and Wurtzbourg, being the Seat of one of the greatest Princes in the Empire, and, at the same time, one of the most affectionate Friends to the House of Austria, her Majesty cannot but be perfectly easy there; and, perhaps, her Journey thither, and Residence in that City, may be attended with Consequences, which, as it would not be prudent to mention. The Count of Wurmburg, First Ambassador from the Electorate of Bohemia to the Diet of Election, will certainly set out from hence on the 6th; and as he is to make no stay upon the Road, it is conceived he will arrive at Frankfort by the 13th or 14th at farthest. Measures have been likewise so effectually concerted by the Court of Munich, that Count Sinheim, the Bavarian Ambassador, will be there likewise, rather before him. These Resolutions were taken, in Consequence of an Express the Court received from Frankfort on the 1st of this Month; by which we learn, that both the Russian and the Palatine Ministers have hitherto persisted, with the greatest Obstinacy, in crossing every Thing that has been proposed, which seem'd to have the least Tendency to promote the Interest of the Grand Duke; but notwithstanding this, we absolutely conclude in the Measures which have been taken at Hanover, for removing all Difficulties; and make no sort of Question that the Election will be carried, in spite of all the Intrigues and Influence of France and her Allies.

Dresden, August 7. According to the Accounts we have received this Day, the Prussian Troops on our Frontiers are all in Motion; and instead of seeming disposed to march, as we expected, into Silesia, they appear to be on the Point of taking quite a different Route. However, this is only Conjecture, and therefore our Court has not thought proper to take any Measures thereupon, different from those which were resolv'd upon before, except taking the necessary Precaution of directing the Inhabitants of the Upper Lusatia, which must be the Country first invaded, if they attack us at all, to get in their Harvest with all convenient Speed. We are not a little amaz'd at the Reports that have been spread concerning the Reception which Count Kevenhuller met with at this Court, since they are absolutely without Foundation. His Excellency was treated here with all imaginable Respect, both in publick and in private; and the King and his Ministers open'd themselves to him so freely, and so clearly, both on the Subject of restoring the Activity of the Vote of Bohemia, and his giving his Voice at the ensuing Election, that it is impossible that Minister should depart from hence with any other Sentiments, than those of the highest Satisfaction. For it cannot be supposed, that either the Court of Vienna, or any other Court, should expect that the King's Minister should undertake, absolutely and pre-emptorily for his Master; or that the King himself should enter into such express and irrevocable Engagements, as are equally inconsistent with his Dignity as a Prince, and incompatible with his Character as an Elector. The Politeness of the Count Kevenhuller frees us from all Apprehensions of his expecting any Thing so unreasonable and indecent; and therefore we consider this Rumour as rais'd by those who were piqued at the cordial Reception he met with; and who therefore, to console themselves under their Disappointments, had Recourse to these scandalous Inventions; in order to hide from the World, as long as they could, the Knowledge of their Disgrace.

committed to Clerkenwell Bridewell by Sir Thomas De Veil, for stealing a Silver Watch, the Property of Mr Paul Portinier, as was a certain Pawnbroker to the Gatehouse, for receiving the same, knowing it to be stolen: And whereas the Person committed for receiving the same, is therein said to be a Pawnbroker, with a Design, as is conceived, to cast a Reflection on the Profession.

The Pawnbrokers following this Business, and no other, and who lately submitted themselves to a Parliamentary Enquiry, in Justification of their Business, think it incumbent upon themselves to inform the Town, in this publick Manner, that the Person so committed, was not a Pawnbroker, but a Journeyman to a certain Salesman; it being from Paragraphs of this Kind, designedly put in by Enemies to the Profession, that the Odium against the Business has chiefly arisen.

Sir WALTER RALEIGH's History of the World is a Work of so vast a Compass, such endless Variety, that no Genius, but one adventurous as his own, daunt have undertaken that great Design. I do not apprehend any great Difficulty in collecting and common-placing an Universal History from the whole Body of Historians; that is nothing but mechanic Labour. But to digest the several Authors in his Mind, to take in all their Majesty, Strength, and Beauty, to raise the Spirit of meaner Historians, and to equal all the Excellencies of the best, is Sir Walter's peculiar Praise. His Style is the most perfect, the happiest, and most beautiful, of the Age he wrote in; majestic, clear, and manly; and he appears every where so superior, rather than unequal to his Subject, that the Spirit of Rome and Athens seems to be breathed into his Work.

It is an infallible Remedy for the Rickets in Children, is a Cure for the Leprosy of ever so long standing, is a Cure to knit broken Bones, and is an excellent Antidote against Poison. Inwardly taken it cures Ulcers of the Lungs, all Disorders of the Breast or Lungs; it also cures the Hardness or Stoppage in the Maw, the Maggots in Wounds, Sheep, &c.

N. B. It will expel Poison, heal the Bite of a Mad Dog, and is an absolute Cure for the most obstinate Itch that has the Force of all other Medicines.

others, for the True Sort: We think it our Duty to caution the World against such scandalous Counterfeits, and in Opposition to our most valuable Oil, and in Obedience to his Majesty's Patent.

Concerning Gleet and Seminal Weakness of all Kinds.

ALL judicious Physicians and Surgeons allow, that nothing is more difficult to cure than Stubborn Gleet and Seminal Weakness, whether occasion'd by too severe purging for Venereal Injuries, violent Strains, Pollution, or any other Cause whatever; as that they are dangerous in their Consequences, as well as difficult to cure, is as certain, since they exceedingly weaken the Generative Faculties, in feeble the whole Nervous System, often bring on Hectic Fevers, a Takes Doloria, or Consumption of the Back, or an Atrophy or Nervous Consumption, which frequently terminate in Death itself.

All such, therefore, who have the Misfortune to be troubled with Old or Stubborn Gleet, Seminal Effusions, Intermittent Emissions, excessive Nocturnal Pollutions, or any Weakness of the Kidneys, Ureters, or Bladder, the Diabetic Incontinency of Urine, or Difficulty of holding their Urine, would doubtless be glad to meet with a certain, safe, and speedy Cure, which they most assuredly may, by taking only a small Quantity of a transcendent BALSAMICK RESTRICTIVE ELECTUARY, now published for a general Cure after having for many Years been experienced never once fail perfectly curing the most Stubborn Gleet known, in a few Days, without Difficulty or Trouble; as also all other Weaknesses of the Back, Reins, Seminal Vessels, or Urinary Passages, which almost infallibly cures, brings to rights and restoring all those Parts and Passages to their natural Tone and pristine Vigour, in a very extraordinary Manner, and by taking a few Doses of it only.

This transcendent BALSAMICK RESTRICTIVE ELECTUARY is neither disagreeable to take, nor occasions the least Disorder, but is a wonderful Restorative in all Weakness and Disorders of Constitution of any Kind, and particularly strengthening the Back, Reins, Seminal and Urinary Vessels to an immense Degree, inasmuch that in any Debility of them, one Dose of it does more than ten of any other Remedy yet found out; and all Persons fatigued with Gleet or Seminal Weakness of any Sort, or Weaknesses of the Urinary Vessels, who take it, will in three Days time find it so very effectual, that they will be most agreeably surpris'd at it.

When a Medicine will infallibly accomplish such a safe, speedy and perfect Cure of such difficult Maladies, as Gleet and Seminal Weaknesses are, as this Great Remedy truly and directly will, even after all other Means and Medicines have been tried in vain; too much cannot be said in it, and that All who ever took it for any of the above-mention'd Purposes have readily declared.

The Price is but 6s. a Pot, altho' for its absolute Effect, one Pot alone being sufficient in most Cases to accomplish a Cure, worth ten times as much, and by the Author's special Appointment, is to be had only at Mr. Rastell's Toy-shop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard in the Strand, ready sealed up, with a Book of Instructions, which whomsoever carefully reads will perfectly know, when the Gleet or Weakness he is afflicted with succeeds a Venereal Injury, whether all the Malignity of the Foul Disease is entirely eradicated or not.

Note, Ask only for a 6s. Pot of BALSAMICK ELECTUARY.
